With its outstanding geographical location and thriving economy, tourism and cultural, Marseille, second city of France, has been recognized for its dynamism and development in the Mediterranean and international for over ten years.

As the capital of Provence, Marseille's ambition is founded on its remarkable potential and key assets.

Marseille has strengthened its strategic position through a combination of 3 aspects:

- > A city of knowledge and creativity, fostered by its higher education, scientific research and technological innovation potential.

> A cultural and touristic city

Over the past few years, tourism has been established as one of the major pillars of economic development in Marseille.

The city's exceptional natural beauty has been home to numerous cultural initiatives, including European Capital of Culture in 2013, European Capital of Sport in 2017 and the 2018 Love Capital. Marseille will devote 2019 to gastronomy in Provence and will be a host city during the 2024 Olympic games.
